

Bequests & Planned Giving – Frequently Asked Questions

Do I have to tell you that I have made a gift in my Will to the Georgian Bay General Hospital Foundation?

No, you don't have to tell us at all! However, if you do share details with us, and wish to keep them private, we can easily do that. We respect your privacy absolutely. That said, we would like to know so that we can say thank you and recognize your planned gift on our donor wall in the lobby of the hospital. We can also share with you the future impact that your gift will make and also invite you to special events at Georgian Bay General Hospital.

What is your correct legal name?

Our correct legal name is the "Georgian Bay General Hospital Foundation" and our Charitable Registration Number is 11896 5789 RR0001.

Once I tell you can I still change my mind?

Yes, you can definitely change your mind. Personal circumstances can change and we understand this. You can alter or revise your Will through your lawyer at any time.

If I have already made my Will, can I still include the Georgian Bay General Hospital Foundation?

Yes, you can revise your Will by adding a codicil. A codicil is a document that amends, rather than replaces, a previously executed Will. Simply add a codicil to your Will making the Georgian Bay General Hospital Foundation a beneficiary of your estate.

Can my gift support a specific area of research or program?

The Georgian Bay General Hospital Foundation team will ensure that your gift is used as intended. Please contact Shelly Price in our office. She can assist you on the correct bequest wording to ensure that your wishes are captured in precisely the way that you want.
